Timisoara - Tracing the Revolution

Timisoara, Romania

Descriere Timisoara - Tracing the Revolution 3*, Timisoara, Romania

The Romanian revolution against the communist dictator Nicolae Ceausescu started in Timisoara. The event that started the revolution was the rebellion of the Hungarian community from Elisabethstadt against the forced displacement of the priest László Tőkés.

On the 15th December 1989, several demonstrations took place. Eventually, a massacre in the Opera Square took place, when the army, together with the security, opened fire upon demonstrators. The exact number of victims is still not known, but rumor has it that more than 153 people lost their lives. The revolutionary movement spread, and eventually led to Ceausescu being removed from the position of leader. Days later, he and his wife were convicted to death through execution.

The proclamation from Timisoara, from the 11th March 1990, is the first document that states the newly found, democratic state Romania.
